Conducting a simple search

image.png

If the list of results is too long to find what you are looking for, you can :

Reduce the search to the catalogue of physical documents held in Athens only:

image.png

(click on "all" at the end of the search window, select "Athens Library" and restart the search)

Or limit your search to online resources, in the same way (select "Online resources") Filter your results using the resource filters under the search bar, to target a particular type of document, e.g. articles:

image.png

Filter your results using the facets on the right of the results list. You can, for example Narrow down your search to more specific types of document, such as theses and dissertations:

image.png

(Unfold resource types, click on "Theses/Dissertations")

(remove the filter by clicking on the cross to the right of the filter at the top of the facets)

image.png

Reduce your search to several subjects:

Place the mouse to the left of the desired subject, and click on the checkbox:

image.png

Then select, and repeat the operation as many times as necessary, then click on "Apply filters":

image.png

Exclude certain locations from the search:

Place the mouse to the right of the location to be excluded and click on the logo that appears:

image.png

To exclude several locations, proceed as for the application of several selection criteria: place the mouse on the left of the location concerned and tick the box that appears, then tick the exclusion logo on the right, and tick the exclusion logos of the other locations to be excluded and finally, click on "Apply filters":

image.png

Other sorting and filtering criteria are available in the facets.